

Gas South Announces Executive Leadership Team Changes

- Chief Operating Officer Manon Brochu announces retirement after 18 years of service
- Chief Sales and Marketing Officer David Malone to transition into Chief Operating Officer role with expanded responsibilities
- Vice President of Sales Jason Dolder appointed to Chief Sales and Marketing Officer role

ATLANTA, Ga. (February 16, 2024) – Gas South, the leading retail natural gas provider of the Southeast, has announced several leadership changes that position the company for continued growth. Manon Brochu, Chief Operating Officer (COO), will retire from Gas South after 18 distinguished years of service to the company. David Malone, formerly Chief Sales and Marketing Officer (CSMO), will succeed Brochu as COO with an expanded role of bringing together operations, customer care and IT to further provide a seamless experience for customers. Jason Dolder, formerly Vice President of Sales, will succeed Malone as CSMO and lead strategic initiatives to drive sales growth and brand visibility.

“At Gas South, building up our leadership team for growth and advancement is a top priority” said Kevin Greiner, Gas South President and CEO. “I’m proud of the legacy Manon created at Gas South to prioritize customer care and service excellence while making sure we lead from the heart. These appointments will continue the growth momentum we have experienced over the last several years, including achieving record customer growth in 2023.”

Manon became the company’s COO in 2019 after a decade of serving in several other leadership roles. Brochu leaves behind a remarkable legacy, most notably growing Gas South from a new company in 2006 to one of the largest natural gas providers in the Southeast with more than 470,000 customers and over $1.3 billion in revenue in 2023. Additionally, she has overseen customer service efforts resulting in the highest Google rating among natural gas providers in Georgia.

“It is gratifying to witness the strength of our succession bench as exceptional leaders emerge from within our ranks, driving Gas South forward with passion, expertise, and dedication” said Brochu. “Under their leadership, Gas South will continue to deliver exceptional service to our customers.”

Other notable announcements include:

- Jared Norton will advance into the Vice President of Sales role reporting to Dolder.
- Secret Holland, Vice President of Human Resources and Community Affairs has announced her retirement to take place later in 2024. Solomon Jordan succeeds her in this role.
- Robin Barfield has been promoted to Vice President of Structured Products and Risk.
