LETTER FROM OUR CO-FOUNDER & CEO

POWERING PURPOSE TO FUEL POSITIVE CHANGE

2021 marked a historically significant and memorable year. We celebrated Cross Country Healthcare's 35th anniversary in business and 25 years as a publicly traded company.

Everything we do is based on our core values and beliefs — they are our compass. We have strived to build our businesses on a foundation of integrity, transparency, and ethical conduct — to do business the right way. With this, we have developed the structure and goals to protect the environment and contribute to economic prosperity, social well-being, and quality of life in the communities we serve. We believe strongly that our dedication and impact will be remembered long after the challenges we all have endured over the past two years.

We are committed to focusing on equality, health equity, our environment, and the future of our communities and our nation. With the backdrop of a global pandemic, we made significant strides to give back; support our healthcare professionals, educators, clients, partners, and team members; and continue our focus on elevating our impact while being good corporate citizens.

We have continuously maintained the ISS Highest Quality Score of "1" for governance and expanded our environmental and social initiatives, thereby improving our ISS Quality Scores for those areas to "2" and "1," respectively. We understand the importance of diversity, equity, and inclusion and once again in 2021 can share that 76% of our corporate workforce is female and 35% is minority. 25% of our board members are female and 38% represent diverse classifications. We also made additional investments in social initiatives, such as the sponsorship of nursing scholarships at FAU, and collaborating with the FAU Christine E. Lynn College of Nursing to conduct a national survey pertaining to employee satisfaction. When it comes to the environment, in addition to recycling, we've embraced an ongoing effort aimed at reducing our use of finite resources and increasing our use of renewable energy.

"I AM SO PROUD OF OUR TEAM FOR THEIR INNOVATION, COMMITMENT TO OUR CORE VALUES, RELENTLESS PASSION FOR DELIVERING THE HIGHEST-QUALITY CARE POSSIBLE, AND PRODUCING GREAT FINANCIAL RESULTS — ALL WITH THE UTMOST INTEGRITY TO CONTINUE SUSTAINABLE GROWTH."

When you're committed to doing the right thing for the world around you, it shows up in everything you do. We continue to prioritize our social impact and sustainability goals as the business emerges stronger from the pandemic. We aspire to be a model employer by leveraging diversity and inclusion to empower our people, deliver the best partnership to our customers and their clients, and make a meaningful difference across the healthcare industry.

As I transition to chairman of the board, I am thrilled to be leaving Cross Country in the hands of John A. Martins. I am confident that under his leadership, we will continue our path of sustainable growth, transparency, and social commitment to our purpose, our people, and our planet.

Kevin C. Clark, Co-Founder & CEO

NEW HIRES

In 2021, Cross Country Healthcare nearly quadrupled our number of new hires over the previous year, hiring approximately 1,127 new employees compared to 321 in 2020. More than half of those new hires were recruiters to bolster support of our healthcare and education facility clients who continued to face an increase in staffing demand and a decrease in available supply.

The total percentage of minority employees at Cross Country Healthcare was at our highest level in a decade in 2021 and in line with the national average. Additionally, our employee turnover rate decreased from 22% in 2020 to 21% in 2021. In 2021, the company was recognized with our first national industry-level DE&I award. All of these demonstrable results inspire us to continue building a best-in-class culture and establishing Cross Country as an employer of choice.

CAREER DEVELOPMENT, TRAINING, AND EDUCATION

Cross Country Healthcare is committed to investing in our employees, whether they want to enhance their skills, become a subject matter expert (SME), delve into a new position, or seek promotional opportunities. All employees have access to career development training in Dayforce, the company’s human resources portal. Trainings feature topics to help employees build skills and strengths, focus on priorities, and take charge of their careers.

In 2021, the company launched Career Pathing as part of our total talent management strategy. The program allows employees to create a growth path to help guide their career development within the company. Additionally, Colin McDonald, Cross Country Healthcare’s chief human resources officer, hosted an ongoing virtual lunch and learn series throughout 2021, titled Grow Your CCH Career.

HEALTH AND WELL-BEING

In addition to the Employee Assistance Program, Cross Country Healthcare provides numerous additional programs to help employees care for both their physical and mental health and well-being. A bi-monthly well-being newsletter features articles about personal health, tips for improving well-being, fun exercise suggestions and healthy recipes.

In 2021, the company began offering monthly virtual group therapy sessions for employees who may have lingering pandemic-related feelings of stress, depression or anxiety. Work-site group therapy has been shown to help individuals deal with stress, improve productivity and increase overall well-being. The sessions are led by a licensed clinical social worker.

“ Career Pathing is essential for encouraging upward mobility and employee development, retaining our top talent, increasing employee engagement, and meeting Cross Country’s workforce needs.”

FIRST ANNUAL CROSS COUNTRY HEALTHCARE INNOVATION CHALLENGE

It started with a simple question: Do you have a great idea to improve the company? The answer came in the form of Cross Country Healthcare's first annual Innovation Challenge, which saw individual employees and teams of multiple employees compete to present those ideas to the company and take home a grand prize of $10,000!

The competition began with 33 teams who submitted their original ideas. A panel of judges from the executive leadership team, including John Martins, Phillip Noe, Buffy White, Susan Ball, and William Burns, chose their top 10 favorites, who then gave an initial presentation of their ideas.

The 10 teams were eventually narrowed down to four finalists who were each paired with a coach and presented their ideas during a live Teams event hosted by Phillip Noe and attended by more than 1,000 employees. Winners were selected based on employee votes.

EMPLOYEE SPOTLIGHT

LILIA GUERRA
Operations Asst. Manager, Cross Country Education

I've been working for the Cross Country Education division for three and a half years. I started out as an Operations Specialist I, was promoted to an Operations Specialist II, and then to an Operations

Assistant Manager, my current position. Our VP of Education, Kelly Hourigan, emphasizes the open-door policy, and our leadership creates a safe space to talk about our short-term and long-term goals. We can discuss if we feel we could be making a greater impact and propose ideas of change to achieve excellence. In addition, each of us is paired with a mentor, and the mentors also collectively meet to share best practices on how to foster growth or discuss more opportunities within the organization.

I tell my friends that working at CCE is nothing like working at any other job. You make an impact, no matter the task you are completing, and you are always heard. You feel supported and encouraged to lead and exceed. You can contribute to a team and feel uplifted to present your own innovative ideas. You feel like a vital piece to the puzzle and work alongside talented individuals that are always willing to help.

“Working at CCE means you make an impact, no matter the task you are completing, and you are always heard. You feel supported and encouraged to lead and exceed.”

During my time here, I've seen an increase in diversity and inclusion efforts. The organization presents webinars and guest speakers to show different perspectives from the people we serve and support in staffing. We also make it a point to celebrate all holidays and ethnic backgrounds, and held an Around the World event, where team members could present on cultures they cared about, and we were able to learn about different places that some of our team members originated from. It's also great that we are commemorating more holidays, such as MLK Day, to give time to reflect on the efforts of monumental individuals in history who fought for diversity and inclusion.

JUAN ZENDEJAS
Recruitment Manager, Cross Country Education

I have worked with Cross Country Education for just over 14 years. I started in the clerical office, helping with compliance and clerical duties, and was promoted to a Junior Recruiter shortly after my one-year anniversary. I am currently a Recruitment Manager with multiple Presidents' Club awards. CCE supports my career growth by providing me with an amazing foundation to build upon. I have always felt that I am being set up for success within this organization. The tools, resources, and team I work with give me the best opportunity to be my best self and to be confident in my day-to-day responsibilities. This type of support is very important for anyone building their respective “book of business,” and I am blessed to have found it early in my career.

If I had a friend interested in applying to CCE, I would tell them they will need to care and have grit. It can be challenging to find the right folks that positively impact the lives of students throughout the US. If you care and have grit, success will certainly follow. My favorite part about working at CCE is the internal culture, our team spirit, and our drive as a division to be successful. We know our work impacts the lives of many, and that is why we must keep a focus on finding the right person for the job, every time.

In my opinion, CCH has always been a leader in the staffing industry because of its efforts to be diverse and inclusive. I feel comfortable asking questions and voicing my opinions when there is a need. My leadership is also very candid in being available to address any concerns or answer questions if there is anything that needs clarification. It feels great to be with an employer who values its employees' opinions and outlook.

I have worked at Cross Country Healthcare for five and a half years. I started out as a Receptionist, then had roles as a Credentialing Specialist and Onboarding Ambassador before my current role as an Onboarding Team Lead.

CCH leaders have always encouraged internal growth and opportunities by listening, and providing feedback on my needs. I find my leaders have been very supportive over my career outlook. If I had a friend who was considering a job opportunity here, I would tell them I have never worked at a company with so much integrity and honesty. CCH has a diverse environment, and being a multiracial woman, I have found it easy to be accepted and given opportunities based on my work ethic and performance. I feel working for Cross Country gives me a bigger purpose, like I am doing important things.

“CCH has a diverse environment, and being a multiracial woman, I have found it easy to be accepted and given opportunities based on my work ethic and performance.”

I love the diversity, and truly I feel at home at Cross Country. I have made long-lasting relationships and really feel like I have made a difference. The company’s diversity and inclusion efforts have only gotten better over time! I was thrilled that they made MLK Day a paid holiday for the company. It shows that CCH stands in solidarity with current events, and I personally appreciate that.

Associate
Recruiter, Team
Lead, Cross Country Nurses

I have had the pleasure of being employed at Cross Country for over a year now! My journey started as a Recruiter in February 2021. I then realized I needed more training in this industry and moved into a Junior Recruiter role in July. After a few weeks, I was promoted to the Associate Recruiter role, and two weeks after that, I was offered the opportunity to become a team lead.

I remembered struggling when I started, and I was very fortunate to be a part of Samantha Rollman’s team. She saw my passion and hard work each day and saw an opportunity for me to tap into my own potential with a bit of help. Her recommendation to place me in the JREC program has changed my path in this company for the better. Jessica Ketant, my training manager, saw my willingness and openness in supporting anyone in need and tested my limits by providing me with increased responsibilities.

When Stacy Dean approached me with the opportunity to be a team lead as I transitioned to the Associate Recruiter role, I had my doubts. Am I the right person for this position? What if I fail? As she explained her path to leadership and how she genuinely cares about this organization, I realized I have a similar quality that most people typically overlook. Caring is a great characteristic with the right balance. Knowing that I care about my team and my contributions effectively pushes me to be better each day. CCH has also provided me the opportunity to be a part of their leadership training program. The invaluable lessons I will learn here will not only benefit me but also my colleagues. Coming from a background with no experience in this industry shows that CCH is willing to invest both time and money in seeing one of their own succeed!

FOR OUR PEOPLE

CROSS COUNTRY IMPACT

“Over the past several years, we have accelerated our intention to create a diverse, cross-cultural workforce and promote the development and advancement of underrepresented groups within our organization. We have already seen measurable results in revenue growth, employee retention, and overall innovation when it comes to solving challenges within the healthcare staffing industry.”

Colin P. McDonald, Cross Country Healthcare Chief Human Resources Officer

Cross Country Impact (CCI) is an employee-led committee formed in 2020 that leads the company’s diversity, equity and inclusion initiatives. The committee defines an annual list of strategic goals and identifies and generates solutions to any obstacles to achieving them. CCI reports directly to the board of directors to detail its accomplishments on a quarterly basis.

Throughout the year, CCI organizes numerous events to highlight and celebrate the diversity of our fellow team members. We know that when all employees feel their unique beliefs, values and traditions are recognized and appreciated, our workplace becomes more equitable for all cultures, races and genders. This leads to increased satisfaction, happiness and production for all employees, which in turn improves problem solving and accelerates innovation, to the benefit of not only the organization, but our healthcare and education facilities and professionals and our communities at large.

In 2021, CCI made significant progress in furthering the company’s DE&I achievements, including laying the groundwork for two new employee resource groups (ERGs), and being instrumental in establishing Martin Luther King, Jr. Day as a paid company holiday. Here is a look at some of CCI’s biggest accomplishments during the year.

Cross Country Healthcare, in collaboration with Florida Atlantic University’s Christine E. Lynn College of Nursing, surveyed nurses and nursing students nationwide to gauge the impact the COVID-19 pandemic has had on them. The results, gleaned from more than 570 respondents, were published in an industry report titled A New Nursing Crisis: How the Pandemic Has Changed Nurses. They indicate that the COVID-19 pandemic has introduced long-lasting negative perceptions of their future careers. The survey identifies root causes of the current stressors among healthcare professionals and provides actionable areas to improve nursing satisfaction, career outlook, and mental well-being.

CLINICAL TEAM DAISY AWARD

Cross Country Healthcare's clinical team, led by Chief Clinical Officer Dr. Hank Drummond, was honored with a DAISY Team Award in November of 2021. During the pandemic, the clinical team established a COVID hotline to guide our healthcare professionals dealing with COVID-related issues. By the end of 2021, the clinical team had answered more than 18,000 calls from healthcare professionals nationwide, providing critical support when they needed it most. The DAISY Team Award honors collaboration by two or more people, led by a nurse, who identify and meet patient and/or patient family needs by going above and beyond the traditional role of nursing.

“The data from the Future of Nursing survey is very clear in outlining specific areas that we can improve, and Cross Country Healthcare is making every effort to support our nurses by addressing these challenges.”

Cross Country Healthcare employees generously gave their time and money to numerous charitable events and organizations throughout 2021, raising tens of thousands of dollars. Here are some of the highlights.

BACK-TO-SCHOOL SUPPLY DRIVE

Led by the enthusiasm and efforts of the Cross Country Healthcare Spirit Squad, employees participated in a back-to-school supply drive for Kids in Need Foundation. Teammates contributed nearly $1,000 to help provide under-resourced teachers and students in the local community with the supplies they need to thrive in the classroom and beyond. Donations bought backpacks filled with essential school supplies for students and boxes of core learning tools for teachers.

BREAST CANCER RESEARCH FOUNDATION

Employees also contributed over $10,000 to support breast cancer research, which the company matched, for a total of $20,000. Cross Country Healthcare’s Spirit Squad organized the fundraising efforts through payroll deductions, virtual participation, and raffles for prizes. Our annual contribution of $25,000 provides scholarships and helps fund educational and research opportunities for students attending the Christine E. Lynn College of Nursing for a minimum of four years. This is an exciting part of our ongoing partnership with the FAU Christine E. Lynn College of Nursing on various efforts to support current and future providers.

DELRAY BEACH YOUTH TENNIS FOUNDATION

We were excited to contribute $1,000 to the Delray Beach Youth Tennis Foundation, a growing local program, which provides academic support, builds confidence, inspires future leaders, and instills life skills for kids from under-resourced families — all through teaching tennis!

EDUCATION FOUNDATION OF PALM BEACH COUNTY

This year, we supported the Education Foundation of Palm Beach County's mission of facilitating student achievement through high-quality public education, partnerships, grants, events, and public awareness. Funds went toward promoting STEM and providing school supplies, cybersecurity, digital inclusion, and more.

AMERICAN RED CROSS

American Red Cross offers an extensive network of programs and services that played an integral part in supporting individuals, families, and communities nationwide during COVID-19. As a small token of appreciation, Cross Country Healthcare donated $10,000 to the organization.

VOLUNTEER TIME OFF POLICY

Cross Country Healthcare's human resources department announced a new Volunteer Time Off (VTO) benefit in 2021, which allows all employees to spend up to one eight-hour workday volunteering for the organization of their choice. REOPENING SCHOOLS DURING THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC INDUSTRY REPORT

Realizing that more than 55 million students were impacted, Cross Country Education published an industry report to support schools recovering from COVID-19 shutdowns. The report, titled Unfinished Learning: Strategies and Solutions, provided guidelines for restructuring programs to accelerate learning and attempting to mitigate declines in critical subject areas like math and reading, as well as social-emotional learning and mental health. The guidance was critical for schools with historically underserved and marginalized populations, as they suffered the steepest shutdown-related declines.

STRATEGIC ACQUISITIONS TO IMPROVE HEALTHCARE AND EDUCATION MODELS

Cross Country Healthcare made two strategic acquisitions focused on improving healthcare and education in 2021. Our acquisition of Workforce Solutions Group allows us to supply clinicians through the full continuum of care, all the way into the home, where they have the best outcomes. | 201-2 | Financial implications and other risks and opportunities due to climate change | Cross Country Healthcare understands the importance of mitigating risks relating to climate change and recognizing opportunities associated therewith as well. In particular, Cross Country Healthcare does not take the threat of short-term climate-related risks such as hurricanes and wildfires lightly. These types of events have the potential to impact our ability to place healthcare professionals effectively in healthcare facilities who serve their communities throughout the United States, to negatively impact our corporate employees, thus negatively impacting the business. Given Cross Country Healthcare has largely conducted its business remotely since March 2020 when COVID emerged, employees are more widely dispersed geographically, and the financial risk of specific weather events is partially mitigated. To effectively address these types of short-term risks, we keep our Business Continuity and Disaster Recover Management Program up to date to manage the details and processes for responding to weather events or natural disasters, including frequent meetings when named storms and events occur, preparing communications to employees, updating contingent business plans and implementing recovery plans. Once our plan is initiated, we provide guidance and communications to team members and we work with our crisis management team to plan a response to each climate-related crisis. We also recognize that climate-related opportunities require a different approach to address the impact on customer expectations, employee expectations and retention, and reputational risks that could affect brand value. |

Back to School Drive Palm Beach Foundation contributions from employees totaled nearly $1,000 to provide under-resourced teachers and students in the local community with supplies they need to thrive in the classroom and beyond. Spirit of Giving Holiday Gift Drive, in conjunction with the Junior League of Boca Raton, coordinated a large-scale holiday gift drive supporting more than 50 local agencies to provide presents to disadvantaged children in Southern Palm Beach County. Employees in our corporate office were able to sponsor a child by fulfilling a gift wish. October Breast Cancer Awareness Month raised contributions to the Breast Cancer Research Foundation, an annual campaign to increase awareness of the disease through education and to promote the importance of early detection and treatment, for a total of $20,000 ($10,000 from employees and a $10,000 company match). Our Light the Night Cross Country Healthcare campaign raised $100,000 in support of the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society, delivering hope and life-saving research and support for cancer patients and their families.
